

No discharges occurred during the monitoring period or pollutant levels were below detection level of the measurement instrument.